Color Deficiency Functionality:

Upon game setup, the system gives the player the option to choose from different colour palettes for the game's components, the player selects the palette that best fits his/her needs. The system sets the default colours for the colour palette chosen.